A three-part program ended the five-day 16th International Students' Science Fair (ISSF) which was held in KVIS from January 15, 2020 – January 19, 2020. From the memorable excursion, the participants were gathered at Thongchai Chewprecha Auditorium for the closing ceremony. The first part was an introductory program which showcased video compilation of memorable moments gathered from the duration of the ISSF. It was a mixture of serious and hilarious moments that were rolled up to be happy and impressive film. A big hand was given by the audience when the video ended.

An award ceremony from the eight subjects followed which comprised the main program. After the last award was given, the Experimental School of Beihang University was announced to be the next host of the International Students' Science Fair, ISSF 2021 and the school's introduction video was played. Then, Mr. Corkill, the chairperson of the International Science Schools Network (ISSN), delivered a thank you speech addressing KVIS and Dr. Thongchai Chewprecha. What is more, he made everybody surprised when he announced the retirement of Mr. Ian Kenworthy and Mr. Chung Yoon.

The last part was a closing speech by Dr. Rachain Kosanlavit, then all were invited to attend the farewell party at the Atrium.

One of the most awaited activities prepared for the students and teachers was the excursion where all of them gained some knowledge about Liquified Natural Gas (LNG) and experienced various Thai cultures. When the participants arrived in PTT LNG which is situated in Map Ta Phut, Rayong, they were given some information how the gas is produced, transported, stored and how the country is benefiting from the company. Moreover, an exhibition was held for the participants to understand more its uses and benefits. After such, they proceeded to Thai Thani where they watched a traditional Thai show accompanied by the famous Thai tom-tom drum and long-tailed boat. Aside from watching the show, each participant was given a chance to play Thai folk games, weave palm leaves fish, make Thai dessert and paint fabric bags. The trip created fun memories which participants can bring with them once they return to their homeland.

LAST memories Forever

Immediately after the closing ceremony, the last moment that all participants shared in ISSF 2020 came. For the past days, participants were indulged in Thai culture, the farewell party was the chance for us to learn the participants' cultures as well. Several performances including traditional dances, plays, songs, and game shows from the participating countries were shown. Furthermore, there were also performances from KVIS students like ballroom dance, Thai traditional dance, and the concert from the KVIS Music club. This showed that the participants are not only students with talent in science and mathematics field, but on the art of performances as well.

Before and during the performances, various foods and drinks were provided by the booths around the Atrium. There were both food same with the welcome dinner but also different ones. All of them look very delicious and worth a bite.

The party ended with a dance music session where everybody, both students and teachers from different countries, regardless of their background, all enjoyed dancing together. It for sure has ended the science fair on a fantastic note, becoming a precious memory for all the participants.

I really love this ISSF because we've easily noticed that you've prepared for this for a long time and you have given so much effort, so we are really happy. Also, we became Thai lovers, including our teachers. We love the food and we love the culture. I love KVIS.

We went to PTT LNG; also, Thai Thani. I experienced Thai culture and I like the house. I love the Thai Thani part because I've learned a lot of things about Thailand. We also made souvenirs like those bags and it's actually very nice.
